This past February I had the pleasure of conducting an all region honor jazz band for the 4th Annual South Central Regional Music Conference. The students were a joy to work with and performed a wonderful concert at the Conference. The staff were helpful, friendly, and really sincere in their desire to create a meaningful and enjoyable experience for students and teachers alike. All I can say is keep your eyes on this conference! It is one that will grow each year and soon be a "major event" in the music education calendar for all serious educators and students.
